

THE PARENTING TIME CENTER

101 NW 10th St. , Evansville, IN 47708 | 812.759.1543

Imagine this.....

You're a dad who wants to see his children but is blocked. Or, you're a mom afraid and worried when your children visit with their dad.

Now, think back to when you were a child.....

How would you have felt if you were not allowed to speak to your mom? Or to your dad? Or you didn't know why one of your parents was gone? Or where they went? Or you were told your mom did something wrong, or your dad? Or if you didn't know when you'd see that parent again?

Every day in our community children and parents feel like this. Hundreds are affected by this uncertainty. It may be your neighbor, your friend, or your grandchild. It may even be you.

Now imagine this.....

A safe place where children and non-custodial parents can spend time together, play, and develop a great relationship. Parenting Time Center is that place. Under the guidance of licensed social workers, it's a place where non-custodial parents and their children can visit or safely have custodial exchanges.

No parents encounter each other at PTC. It's safe and easy to get to downtown behind the Post Office, only a short walk from the METS transfer terminal. Self-referral is encouraged.

Parenting Time Center is the place where professionals help make families happier.
